

Cafe 57 Wins Whippersnapper Award

Cafe 57 at Hearst in New York City was named as “The Most Tantalizing Office Cafeteria” by Ed2010, an independent website about magazine culture.

Nominations were only valid from voters who had previously worked at the magazine for which they were voting and more than 93 magazines and content websites were represented. One voter summed it up best writing “This magazine...has a caf [sic] so great, you don’t mind staying in the building for lunch.”
